Redhill Junior School
Townville Infant School

During construction of a new Youth Centre in Airedale in Castleford Caddick Construction Ltd was proactive in engaging with the local primary schools with regard to building site safety.

At Caddick Construction we are committed to serving and helping the local areas where we work, especially educating local schools about safety on building sites.

"I would like to thank Caddick Construction for sending Debbie and Ivor Goodsite to our school to teach the children about safety on building sites.

The children gained a lot of knowledge about safety on building sites and put it to good use when designing a poster for the competition".

In October 2011, Debbie Watson, Business Development Manager along with the Considerate Constructor's Ivor Goodsite visited pupils at Redhill Junior and Townville Infant School to give them a talk on building site safety and explain why Personal Protective Equipment is worn.

We also set the pupils at both schools a building site safety poster competition, to draw examples of the types of dangers that can be found on building sites.

The best three posters from each school were placed on the fencing around the site to warn other children of the dangers of building sites.
